

ECLIPSE: hello i am going to buying some new equipment and i really the sound , i am a little nervous from a review 2 yrs ago about the current being too much on start up for there is no soft start , has this problem been changed to the amps as well as the preamp ? many of us would like to know ,thanks Maria

it is wrong saying that our amps don`t have a "soft start".

All our amps have this "main current limiter" since about 5 years, for a "soft start".
